

Emma Swinn joined the SAPERE staff team in summer 2023, as Director of Operations and Development, overseeing all operational matters and looking to the future of SAPERE's organisational development. She is Co-Director of SAPERE alongside Grace Lockrobin.

Emma Swinn MBE is Co-Director of SAPERE and founder of The Philosophy Foundation. Emma was named as one of the top 100 Women in Social Enterprise in 2017 and 2020 was also highly-commended for her leadership role in the Social Enterprise Awards. She is President of SOPHIA: The European Foundation for the Advancement of Philosophy with Children, and was a contributing author of the multi-award winning The Philosophy Shop book. She is a commissioning editor for The Philosopher's Magazine.

Emma is a Fellow of the Royal Society of Arts, she is on the Advisory Board of the LSE's Centre for Philosophy of Natural and Social Science, and a Visiting Research Associate at Kings College London. Her latest papers on philosophy in schools can be found in the Journal of Philosophy in Schools and a forthcoming book by Routledge entitled 'Community of Philosophical Enquiry as Citizenship Education and its Pedagogy'.